Table G-2. Integrity thresholds: common alterations for individual buildings versus contributing buildings in historic districts.¹ This table will be used to evaluate the overall eligibility of potential resources (including districts) based on field findings, then analysis of significance will be conducted only if the resource meets the relevant integrity threshold.

Common alteration	Retains integrity at individual threshold?	Retains integrity at contributing threshold?
Alterations aged 50 years or older	✓	✓
Relocation to a different setting	✗	✗
Relocation to a setting similar to original	✓	✓
Interior alteration	✓	✓
Structural or systems alterations not visible from public view	✓	✓
Compatible addition not visible from public view	✓	✓
Compatible additions visible from public view but set back 15-feet or behind ridgeline	✓	✓
Incompatible addition visible from public view	✗	✗
Changed roof form or pitch	✗	✗
Enclosed or changed size of any openings on front façade(s)	✗	✓
Ordinary maintenance like painting	✓	✓
Replacement of exterior wall materials matching profile, dimension, and finish of original (including use of synthetic replacement materials)	✓	✓
Replacement of exterior wall materials not matching original but reversible	✗	✓
Concealment of original exterior wall materials with permanent masonry veneer	✗	✗
Replacement of windows or doors matching profile, dimension, and finish of original (including use of synthetic replacement materials)	✓	✓
Incompatible replacement of windows or doors	✗	✓

¹ Note that all alterations herein may have significance in their own right if they are more than 50 years old and/or allow continuity of significant cultural or historic activities.

Common alteration	Retains integrity at individual threshold?	Retains integrity at contributing threshold?
Replacement of porch/canopy supports matching materials, profile, dimension, and finish of original	✓	✓
